the roll

Simple and yet very special:

The rolled-up napkin that fans out on the right and left. With this technique you can enhance any meal in no time at all.

And here's how it works:

Lay the napkin spread out in front of you. The washing label can be seen anywhere.

1) Fold the napkin in half by folding it down the middle.

OPTIONAL: Halve the napkin a second time to make the roll shorter (as in the photo).

2) Now fold the top quarter down, i.e. the top edge towards the centre.

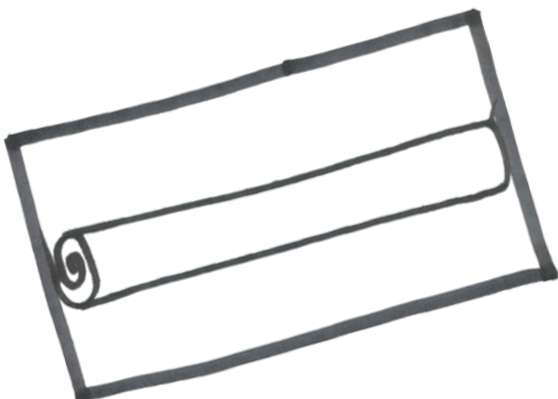

3) This is how the napkin should look now.

4) Now turn the napkin over: The best thing to do is to take hold of the upper edge and "fold" it once completely over the lower edge.

The double-folded layer is now at the bottom of the back.

5) Almost there!

Grab the top edge (both layers) and roll up the napkin. When you have reached the middle of the double folded part you are done!

the bow

The very special gifts are wrapped with a bow.

If you want to give your loved ones a special dinner, you don't have to do without: With our instructions, the bow also works wonderfully as a table decoration.

And here's how it works:

Lay the napkin spread out in front of you. The washing label can be seen anywhere.

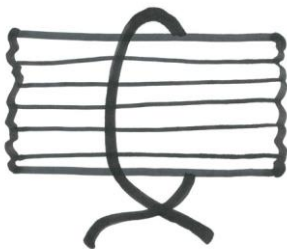

1) Fold both sides towards the centre.

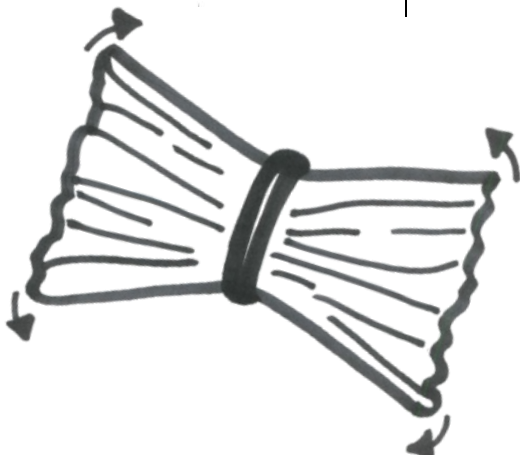

2) Now fold the napkin like an accordion:
Fold approx. 1 cm wide from the bottom to the top, then turn the napkin over and fold it again 1 cm wide in the other direction.

3) This is how the whole thing should look. We fold the complete napkin this way.

4) Then turn the napkin over and tie it with a ribbon.

5) You can now fan out the sides – then you are done.

the elegant screw

Elegance can be this simple.

Folding the elegant screw is child's play and quick to implement. Nevertheless - or precisely because of this - it is the optimal enhancement for every occasion.

And here's how it works:

Lay the napkin spread out in front of you. The washing label can be seen at the top right

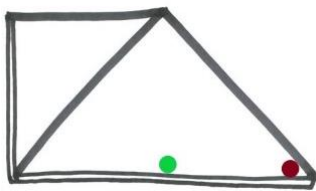

1) Fold the napkin in half by folding it down the centre.

2) Halve the napkin again by folding it in half from right to left.

3) Now unfold the top layer of the napkin: Grab the bottom left corner (one layer!) and place it to the bottom right.

4) This is how the napkin should look now.

If the top left corner has automatically moved to the bottom centre when unfolding, you have done everything right.

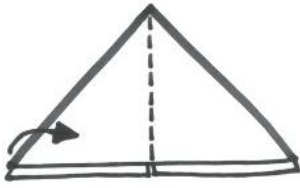

5) Now turn the napkin once onto the reverse side so that it lies in front of you as shown.

Then repeat step 3 and unfold the napkin in half: The bottom right corner moves to the bottom left.

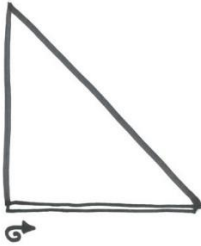

The top right corner moves to the bottom centre by itself.

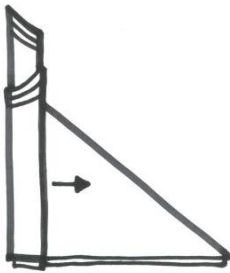

6) The napkin should now look like this.

Now you can fold the left side over the middle to the right.

7) Almost there! Now roll up the triangle from the long side.

8) Continue rolling ...

9) Done! Put the screw in place and let it unfold a little.

It should be able to stand on its own.

the cutlery bag

With the cutlery pocket, forks, knives & co. also find their place at the table.

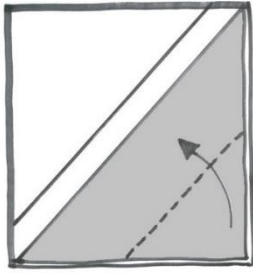

A name tag or flower decoration can also peek out - the different levels make the napkin an eye-catcher.

And here's how it works:

	Lay the napkin spread out in front of you. The washing label can be seen at the bottom left. 1) Halve the napkin by folding the left side over the centre to the right.
	2) We fold the napkin in half again by folding it over the middle from top to bottom.
	3) Now unfold the top layer of the napkin: Grab the bottom right corner (only one layer!) and place it in the middle.
	4) Now fold the triangle in half by grabbing the new fold and folding it again towards the centre.
	5) This creates a narrow rectangle that you fold over once more.

6) Now repeat steps 3 and 4: Fold the bottom right corner into the centre ...

7) ... and you also fold over the new fold once again.

8) This is how the napkin should look now.

9) We now turn the entire napkin over once and fold a quarter of the napkin towards the centre from the top and bottom respectively.

10) The napkin should now lie in front of you like this.

11) Turn the cutlery bag over once more - and you are done!
